

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR SERIES 2025

NAVIGATING THE NEXT CYCLE: ALLOCATING CAPITAL IN AN UNCERTAIN WORLD

A world facing rapid technological innovation, rising geopolitical risks, and dynamic capital flows, this demands sharper foresight from investors.

IIS 2025 will bring together global experts and local leaders to address critical issues including geopolitical instability and investing strategies, demographic transition and revolutionary impacts of AI on global and ASEAN finance and markets.

This event offers a unique platform for asset managers, international funds and policy makers to explore opportunities, manage risks and create resilient, forward-looking portfolios.

SUPPORTED BY Platinum

kenanga

Kenanga Investors

Silver

eastspring
investments

A Prudential plc company

SIDC - 10 CPE
POINTS

FIMM - 8 CPD
POINTS

13 NOVEMBER 2025
9.00AM - 5.15PM

KHAZANAH AUDITORIUM
ASIA SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
11 JALAN DATO ONN
KUALA LUMPUR

03-67317050

admin@maam.org.my

AGENDA

|    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|----|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| AM | Conference Registration & Exhibition Open & Welcome Coffee and Refreshment                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|    | Welcome Remarks Datuk Wira Ismitz Matthew De AlwisChairman, MAAM                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|    | Special Presentation on ASEAN Capital Markets Tan Sri Dr. Mohd Munir Abdul MajidChairman, CARI ASEAN Research and Advocacy & ICMR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|    | Panel Session 1: ASEAN Perspective“The Asean Advantage: Scalling Growth Amid Global Retreat” Tan Sri Dr. Mohd Munir Abdul MajidChairmanCARI ASEAN Research and Advocacy & ICMR Dr Joanne KhewHead of SustainabilityEastspring Investments Mr Kok Lin Teoh (Moderator)Vice-Chair, MAAM |
|    | Global Investment Outlook“Eyes on the Horizon: Making Sense of Global Shift in 2025” Mr Ray FarrisChief Economist, Prudential                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

Group >10 (Member)
RM 399

Normal (Member)
RM 588

Group >10 (Non-Member)
RM 650

Normal (Non-Member)
RM 850

Registration link
CLOSED

For information,
kindly email to
admin@maam.org.my

AGENDA

|    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|----|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| PM | Panel Session 2: Asset Allocation“Rethinking Asset Allocation in a Multi-Polar World” Mr Subash PillaiManaging Director, Head of APAC Solutions,Franklin Templeton Mr Vincent NicholsInvestment Specialist, US Equities &amp; Global Thematics,BNP Paribas Asset Management Mr Jovy Faizal IsmailHead of StrategySarawak Sovereign Wealth Future Fund Mr Peter Sandham (Moderator)Committee memberMAAM                                                                          |
|    | Panel Session 3: Private Assets &amp; Real Assets“Unlisted, Unloved or Unmissable? Navigating Private Equity, Credit &amp; Infrastructure” Mr Izad Sallehuddin (Lead Discussant)Chief Executive OfficerPrincipal Islamic Asset Management Mr Ted RoyHead of Investments and Capital, Real Estate, APACAberdeen Asset Management Mr Frank NgCo-founder &amp; Chief Investment OfficerEZA Hill Mdm Louisa PohDirector &amp; Country Head, MalaysiaAzimuth Global Partners |
|    | “S.W.A.T. – The Trillion Dollar Opportunity” Datin Sri Azleen Osman RaniDirector, Institute Capital of Market Research                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|    | “Nuclear Enablement: Uranium key to an economic revolution?” Mr Max HopkinsThematic Analyst, CLSA                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

Group >10 (Member)
RM 399

Normal (Member)
RM 588

Group >10 (Non-Member)
RM 650

Normal (Non-Member)
RM 850

Registration link
CLOSED

For information,
kindly email to
admin@maam.org.my